This morning, with the mercury down to 10 above zero, Crane & Shafer's painting crew were engaged in the perilous work of painting the M. C. Russell building, corner Third and Market streets.

Dangling from a swinging scaffold 90 feet from the cement pavement is not a safe or pleasant job at any time, and it's doubly dangerous when the cold is numbing.

Federal Attorney Announces For Republican Nomination.

Edwin P. Morrow of Somerset, former United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky, said: "I have decided to offer for governor of Kentucky subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary election next August, and from this time I may be considered as an active candidate."

"My action is prompted by a desire for the office and the honor, and it is supported by the belief, based upon the expressions that have been made to me, that the people want me for their governor."

5,500 TURKEYS SLAUGHTERED AT FLEMINGSBURG.

(Times-Democrat.)

The Brent & Lynch turkey slaughterhouse closed for Thanksgiving market Wednesday, having killed 6,500. The birds are reported a little off in weight this year and those who are holding for the Christmas market are advised to feed up well between now and the opening, about the first week in December.

A LITTLE TOUCH OF WINTER.

This morning was the coldest of the season, the government thermometer showing 10 degrees above zero. On the hilltops it was 4 degrees colder.

However, these are bright, crisp, sunshiny days, and there is coolness of fresh, fine air on tap out of doors.

"The situation in West Flanders and in the north of France is unchanged."

MOST TERRIBLE PUNISHMENT IN THE WORLD.

Political offenders in parts of Mongolia are punished by lifetime imprisonment in coffin-like boxes stored away in dark dungeons. The horrors of this punishment are graphically portrayed in the cover design of the December Popular Mechanics Magazine. The boxes are only large enough to contain one man. There is but one aperture, and that no larger than his head. His hands are manacled and twice a day attendants bring food and drink, which are placed in the shackled hands outstretched through these round windows, which are his only communication with the world. Many highly educated Chinese, it is said, are imprisoned here.

HOUSE PARTY AT BELLEVUE.

McMillan, Miss Lydia Earshaw and Miss Beulah Moore and all will form a merry house party at the Earshaw home, and also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hanna, former residents of Dover.

M. HOWARD TAFT

in which the name of former President Taft is mentioned for the nomination in 1916 is not due to a dearth of good material, but to the fact that he seems best to typify and to embody the truest experience of the nation and the truest standards of national administration. During his retirement from office he has commanded the respect of the entire people by his dispassionate, balanced and disinterested expressions upon national matters. This fact furnishes one of the best reasons for believing that in 1916 the standard bearer of the Republican party for the rehabilitation of the country's ideals and practical agencies will be William Howard Taft.—Baltimore American.

CANAL BUILDER FOR PRESIDENT.

Col. George W. Goethals, Republican nominee for President in 1916. This is the honor that his friends hope to have the G. O. P. leaders confer upon the builder of the Panama Canal. They point out that within the last few years Col. Goethals has frequently been mentioned for the President and that it might, accordingly, be comparatively easy to induce Progressives as well as regular Republicans to unite on him. At the last session of the House of Representatives a bill was passed extending the thanks of Congress and conferring on him the rank of Major General.

IS DER KAISER GROWING HUMBLE?

"Ah! Wrong it is to point, No matter where you be, You should not, must not, point," Said mother, tenderly.

Prunella de Lite, the young mother, was taking Sinbad her little son, out walking. Considering that he was only five, little Sinbad walked extremely well, she thought.

Suddenly a strong odor of smoke assailed the air, and turning, Prunella saw that it was rising from her own summer kitchen. Little Sinbad pointed excitedly.

"See, mamma, see!" he cried. "I set that afire with my little box of matches!"

"Sinbad," said his mother, reprovingly, "how often have I told you never to point?"

And they walked on.

After a bit they passed a Chinaman carrying a bag of laundry.

Again little Sinbad waved his arm excitedly.

"Ooh, mamma!" he cried. "Look at the d-n Chink!"

"Sinbad," said his mother reprovingly, "must I speak to you again about pointing?"

And they finished their walk and went home. The fire men were just putting out the last two or three flames and little Sinbad's father had returned home and was watching them amusedly.

"Agoins," said Sinbad's mamma to Sinbad's papa, "Sinbad has been a bad little boy today. He pointed twice."

So Sinbad's papa spanked him.—Louisville Times.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Many Aches and Ills of Maysville People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so may weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and generally when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills frequently come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards dropsy, gravel or fatal Bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. Maysville is the proof of their effectiveness.

Mrs. Annie McClellan, 541 W. Second St., Maysville, Ky., says: "I was often dizzy and nervous and my head ached. I had pain in my back and my kidneys were weak. Doan's Kidney Pills stopped the complaint immediately and made me well and strong."

Mrs. McClellan is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. McClellan had—the remedy backed by home testimony.

HISTORY OF MULE

He Was Introduced In This Country
By George Washington.

No one loves a mule when he is a little under the weather, but now and then appears a man who knows what the animal can do at his best and stands up in defense of the motive power that "made Missouri famous." Such a mule lover, writing in "Harness," tells how the mule beats the horse at its own occupation, and mentions the debt of the most maligned draft animal to George Washington, "the father of his country." A mule won't eat more than one-half as much grain as a horse and will outlast two or three horses at hard work. A mule has more sense than a horse and takes better care of himself. A mule will not overeat or overdrink, and a horse will. When he has enough he will quit. After hard work he will not drink until he has rested. He will not let himself be overworked. When he has done as much work as he ought to in a day he stops. He is not nervous like a horse and he seldom worries. He is immune to the diseases that attack the horse, especially in the new country of the southwest. In breaking up a new country certain fungous or germs get into the grain that poison horses, but has no effect upon mules. Finally, the owner of a mule can cash him in at any time until he is eight years old. In that respect he is like a diamond. He can always be sold for full value. The mule was introduced into this country on a large scale by George Washington, who became convinced that the mule would be a better working animal than the horse in the southern states, where the horse was peculiarly liable to be killed by disease. Washington received a present of a jack and two jennets from the king of Spain, who selected them from the royal stables in Madrid, and LaFayette, who knew how anxious Washington was to introduce mules to the south, sent him a jack and several jennets from the Island of Malta. It was not long until Washington had his barn stocked with mules, and from there they were distributed among the farmers of Virginia. Twenty years ago mules were very cheap and did not bring 10 per cent. of what they do now. The rebellion of the Cubans against the Spanish government gave the first great impetus to mule prices. The Spanish government bought thousands of mules in this country, used in the war against the rebels on the island. A mule was selling then for $48 that would bring $125 now. Then came the war of the British against the Boers in South Africa, and the British government sent men here to buy mules. The price doubled in three years. The British government bought 1,000,000 mules and horses. Since then the price has never gone down, but has steadily increased. Twenty years ago the average price of mules was about $50. Twelve years ago the average price was $100. Now the average price is about $150. But mules of better quality sell for $175 to $200.—Harrodsburg Herald.

NOTHING BETTER FOR WEAK WOMEN

"I Never Spent Any Money That Did Me So Much Good as That I Spent for Vinol."

Bellefontaine, Ohio.—"I wish every tired, weak, nervous woman could have Vinol for I never spent any money in my life that did me so much good as that I spent for Vinol. My nerves were in a very bad condition, making me very weak, tired, and worn out and often drowsy headaches. I had tried cod liver oil, doctor's medicines, and other preparations without benefit.

"One day a friend asked me to try Vinol. I did and soon my appetite increased, I slept better and now I am strong, vigorous and well and can do my housework with pleasure."—Mrs. J. F. LAMBORN, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Nervous, weak, tired, worn-out women should take Mrs. Lamborn's advice and try Vinol for there are literally thousands of men and women who were formerly run-down, weak and nervous, who owe their good health to Vinol.

It is the medicinal, tissue building elements of the cod's livers, aided by the blood making, strengthening influence of tonic iron, contained in Vinol, which makes it so efficient in all such cases.

Great Singers Must be "Tobacco Wise"

Tuxedo is the Tobacco Chosen by Opera Stars

Men who depend upon their voices come to know tobacco as the ordinary smoker never knows it. A sensitive throat or mouth feels the slightest sting, bite or scorch of tobacco.

Tuxedo is the one tobacco which singers, actors, public speakers—all men who guard their throats zealously—can smoke with pleasure and safety.

Tuxedo tobacco cannot sting, bite or irritate the delicate membranes of the mouth or throat.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo tobacco has made thousands of men converts to the pipe, because it has made pipe-smoking possible for them. Under the famous "Tuxedo Process" the mild, tender leaves of the highest grade Burley tobacco are so skillfully treated that Tuxedo burns slowly and affords a cool, mild, thoroughly enjoyable pipe.

Leading men in all walks of life—well-known doctors, lawyers, ministers, lecturers, etc.—smoke Tuxedo and testify to its soothing influence on the throat.

AN APPEAL FOR OLD CLOTHING.

Since the cold weather set in there have been numerous requests for warmer clothing at the City Mission. Many applicants have had to be turned away as the supply of such things is almost exhausted. Shoes, boy's suits and waists, girl's dresses and coats are particularly needed for school children who can not attend school because of lack of proper clothing. The need for shoes of all kinds is particularly great. Haven't you some castoff clothing in your attic to send to the City Mission? It will be greatly appreciated.

The two (2) lots in this tract will be offered separately, and then the tract will be offered as a whole, and the sale of this tract will be finally made in whichever of these two manners produces the greater sum. Tract No. 3 will be sold upon a credit of six (6) months. "A MIX-UP"

Parker A. Hord's Farce Comedy Creating a Sensation In Theatrical Circles—Remarkable Press Comments.

The new farce comedy, "A Mix-Up," by Parker A. Hord of Maysville, is creating a furor evident by the following press notices:

DETROIT PAPERS, NOVEMBER 17TH, 1914.

(The Detroit Free Press.)

Not in a long time has so amusing a play been seen locally as "A Mix-Up," in which Miss Dressler is celebrating her first departure from musical comedy. It gives full latitude for those funmaking proclivities that she has always utilized so generously, and every incident on which a laugh could be hung is capitalized to the uttermost.

"A Mix-Up" is a farce comedy, in which farce is rather more conspicuous than comedy. Which should not be taken in the nature of criticism, or as an intimation that the play in any sense falls short of the mission on which was sent by Parker A. Hord, the author, and the Misses Shubert, under whose direction Miss Dressler is appearing. Its reason for existence is its power to provoke laughter; and any one who could gloom in the combined presence of Miss Dressler and mistaken identity as it finds expression here, would provide an interesting study for alienists.

(The Detroit Tribune.)

They wired Dick Lawrence from Cleveland that he had a scream coming to the Garrick in the shape of Marie Dressler and her new comedy, "A Mix-Up," by Parker A. Hord. They were literally correct—a scream. The orchestra leader doubled up last night and blase persons in boxes had hysteria.

Detroiters knew what to expect of Marie Dressler, and the Garrick was packed with happy souls whose yell of glee drowned the mutterings of the young blizzard that came down Griswold street.

This is not only because it shows that the Ford is rapidly being increased to meet the supply of orders, but also because it demonstrates that the Motor Company is maintaining the 300,000 necessary to give Ford purchasers between 1914 and August 1st, 1915, a share of Ford.

HOW TO SUCCEED

During the last few years, conditions in all lines of business, even professional life, have changed so completely that every man is waking up to the fact that in order to win success he must specialize and learn to do some one thing and do it well.

So it is with any article that is sold to the people. It must have genuine merit or no amount of advertising will maintain the demand for the article.

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. From the very beginning the proprietors had so much confidence in it that they invited everyone to test it.

It is a physician's prescription. They have on file thousands of unsolicited letters received from former sufferers who claim they are now enjoying good health as a result of its use.

However, if you wish first to try a sample bottle, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., enclose ten cents and mention this paper. They will promptly forward you a sample bottle by Parcel Post.

Regular sizes for sale at all drug-gists—fifty cents and one dollar.
